LASER HAIR REMOVAL FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

1. What kind of lasers do you have?
Candela lasers which are designed primarily for hair removal.
2. Do you treat all skin and hair types?
The GentleLase laser works well on lighter skin, and the GentleYag laser works well on darker skin types. Both lasers are looking for the pigment in the hair, so the darker, the better. The lasers are not effective on blonde, red, light gray and white hair.
3. How many laser treatments are needed?
The number of treatments is determined on an individual basis; however, a good average is 4-6 treatments.
4. What is the cost?
The pricing is set by the location or surface area of the body, for instance, the upper lip is less than legs. We have package prices, so if you pay for 3 treatments, the 4th one is free. Also, the touch-up treatments are significantly less.
5. Should I shave?
Shaving will give you the best results. This allows the energy to go beneath the skin, not just treating the topical hair.
6. Is this permanent?
The company guarantees a permanent hair reduction. Dormant follicles could surface requiring touch up treatments in the future.
7. How close together are the treatments?
Every 4 weeks for the face, every 6-8 weeks for underarms and bikini, and every 10 weeks for legs. It is important to try and stay on the schedule to treat the dormant follicles as they surface, for the best results.
8. Can I have laser hair removal if I am pregnant?
Although there are no contraindications for doing laser, we prefer to provide this service after your delivery.
9. Should I avoid the sun?
Yes, two weeks before and two weeks after laser treatments, preferably. Always wear a good sunscreen.
